

High Definition (HD) Sound Now Available to All Classical Listeners

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 5, 2011 –Four communities in the Pacific Northwest can now hear All Classical via High Definition, thanks to a combination of permits from the Federal Communications Commission and hard work by engineers at All Classical.

The four All Classical stations benefiting from this service are: 89.9 FM Portland; 88.1 FM Hood River; 96.3 The Dalles; and 88.1 FM Newport/Lincoln City. Thanks to a special long-term arrangement with Linfield College and Meredith Mitchell Vineyards, the latest HD addition is KSLC, 90.3 HD2 in McMinnville. Listeners can pick up 90.3 with an HD radio. HD Radios are available in newer cars and home radio models. All Classical's website provides details on obtaining HD Radios at www.allclassical.org/HD.

“Classical music with its wide dynamic range especially benefits from HD Radio technology because it provides higher quality sound and more channels,” says Larry Holtz, VP of Technology.

All Classical thanks Susan Meredith and Frank Mitchell of Meredith Mitchell Vineyards for providing space in their rural McMinnville vineyard for our 90.3 HD2 tower.
